for smaller biz owners with seriously big plans

join us & learn how to sell in a way that really works for you

Confidence in 'sales' is one of the things that most biz owners admit they lack. While we know it's critical to our biz success we often avoid dealing with it because we feel that to be good at sales means being like the 'used car sales man'...

Bust that myth for good at our taskforce learning event where you'll develop:

- thinking that will support you in being effective at Sales
- an understanding of the Sales Proces (that results in sales!)
- the key skills for being effective when you need to be
- a Sales action plan that will work for you and your biz

our april 7th agenda

- 7.00am = coffee & catch-up a chance for a brew and a natter before we start
- 7.30am = session I - sales training taskforce learning session to build skill & confidence
- 9.00am = morning tea
- 9.20am = session II - who's in the room today?
get to know the awesome cows you're learning with
- 9.30am = session III = Rhonda Kite learn from an entrepreneur worthy of our attention

: introducing your entrepreneur

Rhonda Kite is the founder and ceo of Kiwa Media Group, a multi award winning media company developing iPhone/iPod Touch & iPad Apps, digital content for books, producing film & television programs & digital content for the mobile music industry.

In addition to her focus on this growing global business, Rhonda is a mum, a grandmother and is also deeply passionate about sharing what she has learnt with young Maori women to help them learn how to create success for themselves. All in all a pretty busy woman!

We are fortunate to have this truly successful entrepreneur join us for our learning.
